Modest Howard! 10/21/76

Not telling me that your FOIA commentary received your law reviw alumni award for the most outstanding Commentary submitted during the quarter!

Sorry this modesty extended to the Review, which omits your name from the table of contents.

The table of contents suggests the kind of artciles I'd not expect from Florida, what ordinarily would interest me. Because I have no time for them and because of the cost of the large volume and the postage after I read this I'll give it to Jim in return for a xerox of your Commentary.

We are, of course, proud. But the xerox will be all we want, meaning you. Jim may have use for the other writings.

I'm going to read it when I can pay attention and when I do not expect to be interrupted during the reading.

Jim has a Florida client, by the way.

What a fat Law Review!

Congratulations!

Best,
